The contents of a boy's pocket have been frequently exhibited in the newspapers. One boy's sister thought she would call her mother's attention to the stuff Tommy carried in his pocket. She desposited on the table a mixed lot, and the family were amused. But Tommy, so the St. Louis Evening Post narrates, captured the outside pocket of his sister's dress and showed its contents to his mother. The knick-knacks were as follows:

Three hair pins, a broken locket, a soiled glove, a piece of chewing gum, three cards, elastic garter, piece (of ribbon, two slate pencils, another piece of chewing gum, photograph, piece of orange-skin, a love-letter, broken toothbrush, more chewing gum, spool of slik, a thimble, a piece of cotton saturated with white powder, one nickel, two sourballs gater heel, more chewing gum. balls, galler heel, more chewing gum, ivory ornament belonging to a parasol handle, handkerchief perfumed with jockey club, gaifer-buttoper, withered geranium leaves, ivory handled pen-knife with a broken blade, a fan, five vielting cards, belt-buckle, a box of rouge, a cigar holder etolen from "Charlie," a piece of damask silk of the pattern of her friend damage and of the patters of the patters of the Lucy's silk dress, another small piece of chewing gum, and a slip of paper containing the directions for handkerchief flirtations.

Tommy placed the last article on the table and slid from the room with a grin of triumph.

A New Peril to Bathers.

From the Philadelphia Times. Ladies who go down to the beach in barefoot bathing suits now encounter a new peril. Impudent and presumably interested young men follow along with a tape line and measure the length of the footprints in the sand, and get ac-curately the number of the precious member. A dreadfully in love young man went about the beach at Cape May worshipping the dainty prints of his sweethearts little shoe, with its French he-l set in the middle of the foot and so near the toe that it was difficult to concaive that there was any space between them He had fondly measured these fairy-like foot-prints time and again, and every test had clearly proved the shoe to be not more than a two at most. This fond young man wasn't content to let well enough alone. He found his love on the way to the surf one morning in a bathing dress, which did not call for French heels, and he outrageously measwred the footprints as they were made by feet unadorned y the shoemaker's art. It was a severe strain upon the tape line, but succeeded finally in getting the measurement lengthwise and side wise and otherways not wise, and was profoundly horrified. He went over the round half a dozen times to assure himself there could be no mistake, and every time he found that he had the di-mensions of a fairy foot that could not possibly have numbered less than seven and gave strong indications of a right to be called an eight. The poor young fellow was not prepared for the dreadful truth which thus fell upon him with crushing effect. Shocking events like this call loudly for the invention of a buthing slipper with a beel somewhere down near the toe

THE Review seems to have lost at interest in the matter of Wade Hampton's Staunton speech. It is only a few days since it published Hampton's alleged denial, in which he is made to say" I neither used the words attributed to me nor anything approaching them in meaning," and then the editor of the Review vainglortously awaited "a correction from the merry truth teller on South Water street." And now since it appears beyond controversy that the Demogratic paper at Stannton published Hampton's speech in substantially the name words used by the "obscure newspaper writer" who was placarded as a "liar" by our old square cotemporary, and since several democrats of high etanding in Staunton testify that Hampton did use the language attributed to him-since all these developments have come out our veracious neighbor auddealy finds himself so much occupied with other and more weighty matters that he has really no time to devote to the task of anathematizing the defamers of the great South Carolina Democrat. We don't care to pursue this matter always, but in spite of the fact that we have not had any very flattering success in getting answers to our conundrums we still venture to propound to our neighbor another: Does he agree with Hampton in the belie! that the principles of the Democratic party are the same as those for which Lee and Jackson fought? And if he for Garfield, has for several days been dees not will he state whether he thinks | threatened with violence from the Demit good policy to entrust the govern ocrats on account of his change in poliment to a party that is led by men who ties and revealing some corrupt plans do think that the principles of Democracy are those for which Lee and Jackson fought? It may strain our neighbor somewhat to tackle this doublebarrelled conundrum, but we trust he

THE Review of this morning mildly sciticises (it does everything mildly of late) the action of Judge Smith in making a Republican speech at Danville a few days ago, but, as usual, neglects to quote fall the judge said with reference to the propriety of such actien upon the part of a judicial officer. The report from which the Review queted has the following, which that paper did not care to reproduse :

or natural desire for information, upon in his preliminary remarks the speaker referred to the criticism of Democrats that judges ought not to soil the judicial ermine by engaging in politics. This was a criticism leveled only at judges who happened to be Republican in their politleni views; in southern lilinois where the speaker had formerly lived and where the judges were all Democrats, it was not considered improper for circuit judges to hald political views and to express them to their fellow-citizens in private or publie. So the apeaker believed. If it was proper for him to have opinions in regard to the political issues of the day it was proper for him to express them and to argu them in a gentlemanly way upon his stabilities. neighbors, and he should exercise that right without apology

"THE GREAT FRAUD."

The Democratic papers occasionally vary the monotony of their insane vaporings by howling about what they are pleased to call "The Great Fraud" -meaning the electoral commission of 1877, by the decision of which Mr. Tilden was prevented from taking advantage of the frauds perpetrated by him and his supporters. We make history very rapidly in this age and country, and are prone to forget it just as rapidly. It may therefore be profitable to go back to the exciting period which interrened between the last presidential election and the final settlement of the vexed question as to who was elected.

The Republicans generally maintained the theory that the constitution and the then existing laws were sufficient for the disposition of the questionthat is, for the counting of the elcetoral votes and the declaration of the result. The Democrats in Congress insisted that a new tribunal was necessary for a settlement of the disputed points, and out of this grew the legislation which culminated in the passage of the electoral commission bill. The main features of this bill are well remembered-how it provided for a commission consisting of five senators, five representatives and five justices of the supreme court, to which tribunal all disputed questions relating to the count were to be referred. Upon the passage of the bill in the senate 21 Republi cans and 26 Democrats voted for it, and 16 Republicans and 1 Democrat against it. Of those absent or not voting there were 9 Republicans and 1 Democrat. In the House 31 Republicans and 160 Democrats voted for the bill, and 69 Republicans and 17 Democrats against it. Of the 14 absentees 7 were Repub licans and 7 were Democrats. It will be seen, therefore, that the majority of the Republicans in both houses voted against the bill, and the majority of the Democrats in both houses voted for it. Of the 212 Democratic members of the two houses, 186 voted for the bill. Of the 153 Republican members of the House and Senate, only 52 voted for the bill. How, then, can it be charged that the Republicans were in any sense responsible for the creation of the electoral commission? The figures show that it was a Democratic measure, and could not have been adopted except through the almost unanimous support of that party in both houses. The Democrats wanted a new tribunal to decide the presidential dispute, they passed the bill under which it was created, and therefore in effect created the court and fixed its complexion. When that court decided against the pretensions of the Democrats, they were in honor bound to respect the verdict, but they have not. They hoped to secure the presidential prize by resorting to an unusual plan of procedure, and were beaten. They have no Minn. right to "squeal."

Bulldozing in Indiana. Hon. J. D. Barker, Democratic mem ber of the last Indiana Legislature from Pike county, who has recently renounced Democracy and taken the stump of the Democrats, but met with no open violence until Monday evening. He went to his father's house that evening, and soon aft r be got in, his brother and two other roughs came in the house and locked the door and set upon him will gratify a very earnest and altogeth. and gave him a beating, and then one gatural desire for information and was only prevented from using it by a the part of the people, by answering it. lady, but the rough said, "G-d-you, there are lots of Democrats in this county waiting to get a bead on you."

A Prosperous Government

New York World. The great tide of prosperity which has set in since resumption and is reaching high-water mark this Autumn, will operate to the advantage of the republican party. It will exert a more potent influence in the election than any other cause. The panic of 1873 and the weary years of depression that followed gave the democrats an undeserved advantage; for the panic was brought on by inflation, and a majority of the democratic party had been arrant and crasy inflationists. In like manner the republicans will reap an advantage not quite so undeserved from the great lasticity of business which has followed resumption. The people are apt to tolerate a government under which they prosper.

The County Bridge Closed. From date until August 30th, the old onnty bridge which spans the Sangamon river, near the water works, will be closed against the passage of vehicles of all kinds. The bridge is in a rickety condi tion and will undergo extensive repairs for the convenience and safety of the public who use it. Per order of Illinois at the Head. Illinois still leads all other states in the number of miles of its railroads This position Illinois has occupied since 1869, when it passed from Pennsylvania, which previously had been the leading railroad state. The railway mileage of the former state is now 7,-578; Pennsylvania comes second with 6.068; New York follows close behind with 6,008; Ohio is fourth with 5,521 miles; Iowa is fifth with 4,779 miles; Indiana sixth with 4,330 miles; Missouri, Michigan, Kansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Texas, Georgia and California follow in the order named. There is no state or territory which is totally devoid of railroads, though Montana can boast of but ten miles of completed

Conkling on Deck.

Senator Conkling has been for oished with a mass of information bearing upon the comparative wealth of the North and South, the productive industries of both sections, and their relation to the government of the nation, which will be the basis of his speeches in New York, Ohio and Indiana. He has dropped the colloquial expression of taking the stump, and adopted the rowing phrase of "pulling to win," which is understood to imply that all his vigor and energy will be devoted, during the months of September and October, 10 the success of the republican party.

LYMAN TRUMBULL asks to be elected governor in order that he may "reform" the state administration. His reputation as a "reformer" is limited to securing a $10,000 fee from the government for two hours' service in arguing the McCardle case, while he was receiving $5,000 a year as United States senator. and to pocketing the salary grab; yet he fails to "point with pride" to his record in support of his claim as a "reformer."-State Journal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 26 .-Attorney General Devens has received a letter from the Indiana State Central Committee designating the time and places of his speeches in that State : September 3, at Fort Wayne; 4th at the 8th he will speak at Minneapolis, though the distressing heat of the past days, and re-enforced from the neigh-Virginia, made a large showing. Conspicuous in the turnout was the Black Horse Cavalry of Alexandria, of rebel notoriety. On arriving here to-day the men openly declared that they did not get into Washington during the rebellion, but they were in now, and if Hancock was elected they would be ready to prevent Northern Yankees from ever getting control of the Capital again. The "Regulars" from Falls Church were also out in force, commanded by W. H. H. Lee, nephew of Robt. E. Lee. This force was made up only of men who had served in the rebel army. It was a noticeable fact that the entire procession was made up of men who had either fought to destroy the Union or had sympathized with them, and by intrigue had resorted to every means to cripple the speakers' stand that was a large display of bunting, and in the procession several small rebel flags were displayed, while the display of the Stars and Stripes was very weak. The Lincoln statue in front of the speakers' stand was also decorated. An aged colored woman in the crowd, seeing this desecration of the memory of Lincoln, shouted at the top of her voice, "Bless

How Democrats Treat Union Soldiers..

Hayes Starts on his Western Trip.

The Rebels Capture Washington.

TOLEDO, Aug. 27.-Wheat 96% cash; 97} Sept. Corn 43 cents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 26.—Some tine will elapse before a successor to General Myer, the late Chief of the Signal Service, will be appointed, owing to the controversy as to the exact status of the bureau over which he had charge. The great development of the science of meteorology has introduced into the once strictly military daties of the army signal corps a vast amount of work purely of a civil and commercial character. An effort will be made to separate the army signal corps from this new outgrowth, and make a scparate bureau for the meteorological portion of the business.

The present prosperous times in New Jersey are having a good effect in solidifying the republican party in that state. Some iron-mills are now runuing (with orders ahead) which have been idle for tifteen years. Any change whatever, just now, would be dangerous, in the opinion of almost all the emplayers and operatives in Morris county, where the boom is the heaviest.

Postmaster General Maynard ha been formally introduced to the employes of the department, and is being shown the nature of his duties by Judge

Lists have been prepared showing the disgraceful record of the Democratic party in congress in dismissing crippled Union soldiers and replacing them with rebel soldiers, in connection with the two houses of congress. There are over one hundred names in each list and the wounds of the Union soldiers are carefully specified.

The president previous to his departure, spoke very hopefully of the prospects of the republican party. discerns a marked improvement in republican tone during the past year.

SABBATH SCHOOL WORKERS

First Day of the Annual Convention of the Macon County S. B. Association in Session at Elwin, Illinois.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 26. The annual convention of the Macon County Sabbath School Association conened in the United Brethren church at Elwin, Ill., on Thursday, Aug. 26, 1880, at 10:15 a. m., President J. R. Gorin, of Decatur, presiding. Song-"Let Me Tell it Again," by the choir, led by Prof. S. M. Lutz.

Prayer-By Rev. N. M. Baker. The address of welcome to the Sabbath chool workers present was made by Rev. W. L. Bankson, of Wheatland township, and the response was spoken by Rev. N. M. Baker, of Long Creek.

Song-"Blest be the Tie that Binds." The president then read the following telegram from Bro. Mason, district president at Bloomington:

"Read Second Timothy, I chapter, 3rd to 7th verse."

Bro. W. B. Jacobs, the well-known prominent Sunday school worker of Chicago, who has but recently returned from the S. S. Congress of the World, held lately at London, England, read the verses referred to in the telegram.

The president stated that D. C. Corley. of Decatur, would act as secretary, owing to the absence of I. J. Davis, who is attending the State Y. M. C. A. Convention at Peoria.

Song-"Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The report from the state convention was made by Bro. Jacobs, who spoke of at the Centennial Convention he had never (been more kindly treated. He moved to amend the regular programme of the session by adding a "children's meeting." The motion prevailed, and the time for the meeting was fixed at between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock on Friday. Bong-"Give Me Jesus."

The following delegates reported the S. 3, work in their townships as in a flourishing condition: Bro. Clark, Long Creek; . H. Crocker, Maroa; Jas. Shay, Macon; J. H. Pickreil, Harristown; J. J. McCare, Vhitmore; Rev. N. S. Haynes, Decator. Many valuable suggestions were made, which, if acted upon, will doubtless add new interest to the work. The following committee on resolutions was appointed: J. H. Pickrell, W. T.

Beadles and J. T. Haker. Committee on nomination of officers A. F. Hopkins, W. L. Bankson and S. M.

The convention then adjourned to two o'clock, p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The church was crowded at 2:30 p m. when an interesting prayer and praise meeting was held, with Miss Jeanette Bowers, of Stapp's Chapel, Decatur, at

Then followed the discussion of the following topic: "The Importance of Preparation for Sunday School work."

In consequence of the unavoidable absence of Mr. E. A. Gastman, the discussion was opened by Rev. N. S. Haynes, who was followed by W T. Beadles and Song-"Waiting for the Crown,"-

Miss Alida Handy, organist

Rev. Giffin, of Blue Mound, D. K. Wilson, of Friends Creek, and Rev. Baker also discussed the above topic, and after a song—"Once Agam"—the discussion was closed by Bro. Jacobs, of Chicago, who exhorted Sabbath School workers to teach in the way laid down in God's book and for His glory: Be willing, de termined, studious, patient; be watchful, obedient, self-sacrificing; be faithful unto death: be Christ like.

Song-"Work, for the Night is Com-

Discussion-"SuperIntendent's Duties," opened by J. H. Crocker, of Maroa, who was followed by D. K. Wilson, of Friends Oreek who in the course of his remarks said, "Too many superintendents are entirely too big for the place," which occasioned no little amusement.

Song-"O, Revive Us." Rev. W. A. Reynolds, of Warrensburg, made a few pertinent remarks on the topic, and the discussion was closed by Bro. Jacobs, who said that superintendents should be punctual, regular, humbleminded, sympathetic, gentle, manly, firm, long-suffering, and always do right Song-"Give Me Jesus." Rev. Reynolds made a report of the Illini school, and said the work there was on the increase and more enthusiastic

QUESTIONS.

The following questions were put to the convention, and it was voted that all should be answered by Bro. Jacobs on too well?

What will we do with the little ones? Song-"Shall we all meet?" and the long metre doxology. Benediction by Rev. W. A. Reynolds.

Adjourned to 8 p. m. EVENING SESSION.

The church was filled to its fullest capacity, and after interesting devotional exercises an able address on "The Teacher and his Work," was delivered by Rev. J W Cecil, of Macon.

Bro. Jacobs, of Chicago, also delivered an interesting address on "Sunday School Work Abroad." The convention adjourned to Friday

'A New Railroad from Decatur.

We learn from the Springfield Journal of the 26th inst., that certificates of incor poration have been filed for record in the Sangamon county circuit clerk's office by the Decatur, Springfield and Roodhouse Railroad Company, of which Jonathan Merriam, Bluford Wilson, D T. Littler, Edward C Rice and L. W. Shepard are the incorporators. This company proposes to construct a road from Decatur to Springfield, and thence through the counties of Morgan, Macoupin and Greene to Roodhouse. Springfield is to be the principal office: the capital stock $1,000,000; the duration twenty years, with the right of the fruit should be gathered and laid renewal. The first board of directors is away in boxes or drawers, between layers to consist of Bluford Wilson, D. T. Littler, of cotton or straw, and placed where it is dark. In a few days, they will have col-

Another new railway, to be known as the Springfield, St. Louis and Izalisville, is a part of the Decatur, Springfield and Roodhouse railway scheme, and the Jour nal remarks: "That both projects are bona fide business investments, is attested by the character of the gentlemen engaged therein, their ability to control all the capital needed, and the fact that no subscriptions are asked for. It nothing unforseen occurs, actual work will be commenced the present year."

machinery or the mains, and felt that 'the bottom facts" should be ascertained and the cause removed. In time of fire the best in use, it has been utterly impos sible to give the required pressure, and was thought until last night that the cause of this failure was owing to the coa used or the exhaust pipes. But the tes the coal and pumps are all right, but the the main pipe through which comes all the water used in the city, are improperly placed and are the cause of all the trou ble. The main is 12 inches in diameter and both supply pipes are of like size One of these supply pines connects with the main at the end in a sort of an elboy shape and six feet north of the water works the other supply pipe taps the main This pipe is placed in a perpendicular position coming out of the ground, When both pumps are at work, as was the case last night, by the position of the supply ripes as above indicated, and although the strongest possible pressure is applied there is unavoidable back pressure which robs the pumps of their united power and renders the works in a measure inefficient and unsatisfactory. The Mayor and wa ter committee were at the works and wit nessed the operation of the machinery, and speedily observed the cause of the trouble as stated, and will at once go to work and devise a way to remedy the present unfortunate condition of things It is believed that if the supply papes ar placed in a Y shape-both pipes tappin the main at the end—that the trouble wil be removed, and that water may in time of a fire be forced through the main at a pressure of 140 pounds. Last night the highest pressure that could be secured by the action of both pumps was 120 pounds. and this while all the water from the pipes in the city-at the factories, a stores and at dwellings-was shut off. A number of firemen had hose attached t and good streams were thrown, but the pressure was not what it ought to have It is declared that the 12 meh mai

Main street to the old square and stops there (the branch mains being of smaller size) is entirely too small. In case something serious should happen to it, and big conflagration was under way the city would be entirely cut off from the water works and we should be is very badly needed as another mainfully 18 inches in diameter -- to run from the works up Water street to the Wabash railway, and the branch mains that run among the factories in the first ward ought to be colorged. The expense of such an improvement would be considerable, as a matter of course, but the need of it is apparent to all who have given the subject any thought.
